

Litter Box Aversion History Form

Date:

Owner:

Pet:

Age:

Breed:

M/ F/ Neutered?

How many cats are in the household?

Are there dogs in the household?

Does the dog(s) ever eat any cat feces?

How many litter boxes are in the household?

Are any of the boxes automated, open or hooded?

How big are the boxes?

Are any of the boxes in a dimly lit, noisy (laundry room), or drafty area?

Are any of the boxes in a high traffic area?

What kind of litter is being used?

Is the cat urinating, defecating or both outside of the box?

If there is more than one cat, do you know for sure who the "culprit" is?

Is the animal drinking more water than usual or eating more than usual?

Is there any vocalization when the cat is urinating or defecating?

Is there any vomiting or hairballs?

What is the consistency of the stools?

Is the stool covered with litter or uncovered?

Does the urine have a stronger than usual odor?

Is the cat frequently urinating in small amount?

How often does it happen (daily, three times weekly, etc)?

What areas of the house are involved?

What substrate is involved (carpet, piles of laundry, bedding, etc)?

Does it always occur in the same place?

Does it occur when you are home or away from home?

In multiple cat households, do you see cat attacks, stalking or fights near the litter box?

Does the cat scratch in the box?

About how long does the scratching occur:

a) 1-4 seconds b) 4-8 seconds c) 8-12 seconds d) 12 or more seconds e) not sure

Does the cat stand with any feet outside or on the edge of the box?

Does the cat shake its paws upon exiting the litter box?

Additional comments: